The Northwestern University

comprises the following Departments of study:

The Collegiate Department, the Preparatory Department, and the Academic Department.

The Collegiate Department offers its students a thorough course in the classical languages and literature. The English and German languages are the media of instruction, the course being so arranged as to give the students a complete mastery of both. Together with these, Moral and Intellectual Sciences, Natural Sciences, and Mathematics receive careful attention.

The Preparatory Department admits, at its close, into the Collegiate Department.

The course of the Academic Department embraces not only the studies pursued in business colleges, but also the branches preparatory to the higher studies in Engineering, etc.

The University was founded by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin, in the year 1865. It is situated on the Rock river in the city of Watertown, Wisconsin. Its buildings, erected on an elevation and overlooking the city, have a commanding aspect. The buildings consist of a recitation hall; a dormitory, affording accommodations for about 100 students; a refectory, which also contains the sick-rooms and a few private rooms; and a gymnasium. The recitation hall is heated by steam, the other buildings by hot water; all buildings are supplied with modern improvements.

GYMNASTICS.

A society for gymnastic exercises is organized, and instruction in gymnastics is given during the autumn and winter terms in the spacious gymnasium erected for that purpose.

A military company, under the command of a competent officer, affords an excellent opportunity for exercise and physical development.

MUSIC.

Vocal and instrumental music are extensively studied and practiced. A brass band is in a flourishing condition.

A pedal organ and several pianos are at the disposal of the students for a small consideration.

LIBRARY AND APPARATUS.

The Institution possesses a library of standard works, which is increased from year to year with moneys appropriated for that purpose, and by donations from friends of the School. It now comprises 3570 volumes, more than one half of the Library having been destroyed by the fire, July 30, 1894. The students maintain a reading room, where they have an opportunity of reading numerous papers and periodicals both in English and German. They also have access to the more important works of reference.

The necessary apparatus for the illustration of history, geography, and the sciences has been procured, and additions are made annually.

COLLEGE PAPER.

The students now publish a quarterly called The Black and Red. Subscriptions (25 cents per annum) will be received by Mr. Otto F. Kuhlow.

DISCIPLINE.

As the Institution is under the control of, and sustained by, the Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin, it is understood that in it the Word of God is to rule supreme, and that also the discipline of the school is to be shaped in accordance with this norm.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the first and third terms classes have written and public examinations in the studies pursued during the terms. At the same time reports are given to be forwarded to the parents or guardians. The final examinations of the Senior Class are held during the week immediately preceding the Commencement Exercises.

Students wishing to enter the Freshman Class are required to pass an examination in studies equivalent to those pursued in the Preparatory Department.

Students wishing to enter higher classes must pass a thorough examination in the studies pursued by the class or their equivalent.

Students that have failed in, or have been absent from, examinations will be required to pass a full and satisfactory examination before they re-enter the Class.

EXPENSES.

The school year is divided into three terms, the first of which is of sixteen, the second and third each of twelve week's duration.

|   |   |   |   |   |   |   |         |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---------|
| Tuition, first term                                     | - | - | - | - | - | - | $12.00 |
| Tuition, second and third term, each                    | - | - | - | - | - | - | 9.00    |
| Incidental expenses, per term                           | - | - | - | - | - | - | .75     |
| Resident students pay for use of furniture per year     |   |   |   |   |   |   | 1.00    |
| For service, each term                                  | - | - | - | - | - | - | .50     |
| For fuel  | - | - | - | - | - | - | 8.00    |
| Oppidans that pay no tuition must pay annually for fuel | - | - | - | - | - | - | 5.00    |

Each resident student must provide his own bedding and light, and will receive plain but substantial board at the Institution, at $40 the first term, and $30 each of the other terms. Students from congregations of the General Synod of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan receive board at $30 the first term, and $25 the second and third terms. Special terms are offered to such as intend to prepare for the ministry or for teaching within the above-named synod.

All term-bills must be paid within four weeks after the beginning of the term.

Students from abroad whose parents or guardians wish them to stay with private families can be accomodated at from $40 to $60 per term; but in such cases the Institution declines all responsibility for a student, except during the recitations.

Every student is held responsible for the furniture that he uses, and the cost of repairing any damage thereto will be charged to him. In case of injury to the buildings, or to any of the furniture, apparatus, or other property of the Insitution, the damage is charged to the student or students known to be immediatly concerned; but if the persons that caused the damage are unknown, the cost of repairing the same is assessed equally upon all the students of the school.

Each student is required to deposit annually on entering $1.00 to pay for any injury done by him to the property of the Institution. This money will be refunded if the student does not destroy anything.

ADMISSION.

• Every applicant for admission must submit to the President satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and students coming from another college must present certificates of honorable dismissal from the institution where they pursued their studies.

To secure rooms, applications for admission for the next scholastic year should be made as early as possible, personally or by letter, to the President.

HOLIDAYS.

Thanksgiving Day, Washington's Birthday, half of the week before Easter, Easter Monday, Ascension Day, and Whit Monday are observed as holidays.

The Northwestern University

comprises the following Departments of study:

The Collegiate Department, the Preparatory Department, and the Academic Department.

The Collegiate Department offers its students a thorough course in the classical languages and literature. The English and German languages are the media of Instruction, the course being so arranged as to give the students a complete mastery of both. Together with these, Moral and Intellectual Sciences, Natural Sciences, and Mathematics receive careful attention.

The Preparatory Department admits, at its close, into the Collegiate Department.

The course of the Academic Department embraces not only the studies pursued in business colleges, but also the branches preparatory to the higher studies in Engineering etc.

The University was founded by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin, in the year 1865. It is situated on the Rock river in the city of Watertown, Wisconsin. Its buildings, erected on an elevation and overlooking the city, have a commanding aspect. The buildings consist of a recitation hall; a dormitory, affording accommodations for about 100 students; a refectory, which also contains the sick-rooms and a few private rooms; and a gymnasium. The recitation hall is heated by steam, the other buildings by hot water; all buildings are supplied with modern improvements.

GYMNASTICS.

A Society for gymnastic exercises is organized, and instruction in gymnastics is given during the autumn and winter terms in the spacious gymnasium erected for that purpose.

A military company, under the command of a competent officer, affords an excellent opportunity for exercise and physical development.

MUSIC.

Vocal and instrumental music are extensively studied and practiced. A brass band is in a flourishing condition.

A pedal organ and several pianos are at the disposal of the students for a small consideration.

LIBRARY AND APPARATUS.

The Institution possesses a library of standard works, which is increased from year to year with moneys appropriated for that purpose, and by donations from friends of the School. It now comprises 3759 volumes, more than one half of the Library having been destroyed by the fire, July 30, 1894. The students maintain a reading room, where they have an opportunity of reading numerous papers and periodicals both in English and German. They also have access to the more important works of reference.

The necessary apparatus for the illustration of history, geography, and the sciences has been procured, and additions are made annually.

COLLEGE PAPER.

The students now publish a monthly journal called The Black and Red. Subscriptions (50 cents per annum) will be received by Mr. George Hauschild.

DISCIPLINE.

As the Institution is under the control of, and sustained by, the Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin, it is understood that in it the Word of God is to rule supreme and that also the discipline of the school is to be shaped in accordance with this norm.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the first and third terms classes have written and public examinations in the studies pursued during the terms. At the same time reports are given to be forwarded to the parents or guardians. The final examinations of the Senior Class are held during the week immediatly preceding the Commencement Exercises.

Students wishing to enter the Freshman Class are required to pass an examination in studies equivalent to those pursued in the Preparatory Department.

Students wishing to enter higher classes must pass a thorough examination in the studies pursued by the class or their equivalent.

Students that have failed in, or have been absent from, examinations will be required to pass a full and satisfactory examination before they re-enter the Class.

EXPENSES.

The school year is divided into three terms, the first of which is of sixteen, the second and third each of twelve week's duration.

|   |           |         |
|---|-----------|---------|
| Tuition, first term                                 | - - - - - | $12 00 |
| Tuition, second and third term, each                | - - -     | 9 00    |
| Incidental expenses, per term                       | - - - -   | 75      |
| Resident students pay for use of furniture per year |           | 1 00    |
| For service, each term                              | - - - - - | 50      |
| For fuel  | - - - - - | 8 00    |
| Oppidans that pay no tuition must pay annually      |           |         |
| for fuel  | - - - - - | 5 00    |
| For the use of a typewriter per month               | - -       | 1 00    |

Each resident student must provide his own bedding and light, and will receive plain but substantial board at the Institution, at $40 the first term, and at $30 each of the other terms. Students from congregations of the Joint Synod of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan receive board at $30 the first term, and $25 the second and third terms. Special terms are offered to such as intend to prepare for the ministry or for teaching within the above-named synod.

All term-bills must be paid within four weeks after the beginning of the term.

Students from abroad whose parents or guardians wish them to stay with private families can be accomodated at from $40 to $60 per term; but in such cases the Institution declines all responsibility for a student, except during the recitations.

Every student is held responsible for the furniture that he uses, and the cost of repairing any damage thereto will be charged to him. In case of injury to the buildings, or to any of the furniture, apparatus, or other property of the Institution, the damage is charged to the student or students known to be immediatly concerned; but if the persons that caused the damage are unknown, the cost of repairing the same is assessed equally upon all the students of the school.

Each student is required to deposit annually on entering $1.00 to pay for any injury done by him to the property of the Institution. This money will be refunded, if the student does not destroy anything.

ADMISSION.

Every applicant for admission must submit to the President satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and students coming from another college must present certificates of honorable dismissal from the institution where they pursued their studies.

To secure rooms, application for admission for the next scholastic year should be made as early as possible, personally or by letter, to the President.

HOLIDAYS.

Thanksgiving Day, Washington's Birthday, half of the week before Easter, Easter Monday, Ascension Day, and Whit Monday are observed as holidays.

The Northwestern University

comprises the following Departments of study:

The Collegiate Department, the Preparatory Department, and the Academic Department including the Commercial Course.

The Collegiate Department offers its students a thorough course in the classical languages and literature. The English and German languages are the media of instruction, the course being so arranged as to give the students a complete mastery of both. Together with these, moral and intellectual sciences, natural sciences, and mathematics receive careful attention.

The Preparatory Department admits, at its close, into the Collegiate Department.

The course of the Academic Department embraces not only the studies pursued in business colleges, but also the branches preparatory to the higher studies in engineering, etc.

The institution was founded by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin in the year 1865. It is situated on the Rock river in the city of Watertown, Wisconsin. Its buildings, erected on an elevation and overlooking the city, have a commanding aspect. The buildings consist of a recitation hall; a dormitory, affording accommodations for about 100 students; a refectory, which also contains the sick-rooms and a few private rooms; and a gymnasium. The recitation hall is heated by steam, the other buildings by hot water; all buildings are supplied with modern improvements.

GYMNASTICS.

A society for gymnastic exercises is organized, and instruction in gymnastics is given during the autumn and winter terms in the spacious gymnasium erected for that purpose.

MUSIC.

Vocal and instrumental music are extensively studied and practiced. A brass band and an orchestra are in a flourishing condition.

A pedal organ and several pianos are at the disposal of the students for a small consideration.

LIBRARY AND APPARATUS.

The Institution possesses a library of standard works, which is increased from year to year with moneys appropriated for that purpose, and by donations from friends of the School. It now comprises 4198 volumes. The students maintain a reading room, where they have an opportunity of reading numerous papers and periodicals both in English and German. They also have access to the more important works of reference.

The necessary apparatus for the illustration of history, geography, and the sciences have been procured, and additions are made annually.

COLLEGE PAPER.

The students now publish a monthly journal called The Black and Red. Subscriptions (50 cents per annum) will be received by Mr. Adolf Pfund.

DISCIPLINE.

As the Institution is under the control of, and sustained by, the Lutheran Synod of Wisconsin, it is understood that in it the Word of God is to rule supreme and that also the discipline of the school is to be shaped in accordance with this norm.

EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the first and third terms classes have written and public examinations in the studies pursued during the terms. At the same time reports are distributed. The final examinations of the Senior Class are held during the week immediately preceding the Commencement Exercises.

Students wishing to enter the Freshman Class are required to pass an examination in studies equivalent to those pursued in the Preparatory Department.

Students wishing to enter higher classes must pass a thorough examination in the studies pursued by the class or their equivalent.

Students that have failed in, or have been absent from, examinations will be required to pass a full and satisfactory examination before they re-enter the Class.

EXPENSES.

The school year is divided into three terms, the first of which is of sixteen, the second and third each of twelve week's duration.

|   |   |   |   |   |   |   |         |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---------|
| Tuition, first term                                     | - | - | - | - | - | - | $12 00 |
| Tuition, second and third term, each                    | - | - | - | - | - | - | 9 00    |
| Incidental expenses, per term                           | - | - | - | - | - | - | 75      |
| Resident students pay for use of furniture per year     | - | - | - | - | - | - | 1 00    |
| For service, each term                                  | - | - | - | - | - | - | 50      |
| For fuel, annually                                      | - | - | - | - | - | - | 8 00    |
| Oppidans that pay no tuition must pay annually for fuel | - | - | - | - | - | - | 5 00    |
| Rent of a typewriter per month                          | - | - | - | - | - | - | 1 00    |

Each resident student must provide his own bedding and light, and will receive plain but substantial board at the institution at $40 the first term and at $30 each of the other terms. Students from congregations of the Joint Synod of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan receive board at $30 the first term, and $25 the second and third terms. Special terms are offered to such as intend to prepare for the ministry, or for teaching within the above-named synod.

All term-bills must be paid within four weeks after the beginning of the term.

Students from abroad whose parents or guardians wish them to stay with private families can be accommodated at from $40 to $60 per term; but in such cases the institution declines all responsibility for a student except during the recitations.

Every student is held responsible for the furniture that he uses, and the cost of repairing any damage thereto will be charged to him. In case of injury to the buildings or to any of the furniture, apparatus or other property of the Institution the damage is charged to the student or students known to be immediately concerned; but if the persons that caused the damage are unknown, the cost of repairing the same is assessed equally upon all the students of the school.

Each student is required to deposit annually on entering $1.00 to pay for any injury done by him to the property of the institution. This money will be refunded if the student does not destroy anything.

ADMISSION.

Every applicant for admission must submit to the President satisfactory testimonials of good moral character; and students coming from another college must present certificates of honorable dismissal from the institution where they pursued their studies.

To secure rooms, application for admission for the next scholastic year should be made as early as possible, personally or by letter, to the President.

HOLIDAYS.

Thanksgiving Day, Washington's Birthday, half of the week before Easter, Easter Monday, Ascension Day, and Whit Monday are observed as holidays.
